

I'm not robot!

1. Foreword Unlike some classes, Warlock has several viable leveling builds that will give you different strengths while leveling. This Destruction build is all about one thing: Dungeons. If you are planning to level using a spell cleave group that AoE's its way through dungeons, this is the build that you will want to run. As a warning, while it is possible to solo level and quest with this build, it will be far worse than Demonology or Affliction. 2. Level by Level Rotation, Talents, and Trainer Skills Move the slider below to make the guide update to your level! Level: 60.3. Leveling Talent Tree & Build Your first talent unlocks at Level 10. Destruction Warlock Talents Level 10 to 19 Destruction Warlock Talents Level 20 to 29 Destruction Warlock Talents Level 30 to 39 Destruction Warlock Talents Level 40 to 49 Destruction Warlock Talents Level 50 to 60 Levels 10 to 14 — 5 points in Cataclysm Levels 15 to 19 — 5 points in Aftermath As stated above, this build is primarily for if you plan to level through AoEing dungeons down. Thus, the primary goal of this build is to buff your Hellfire as much as possible since it will be the vast majority of damage in dungeons. Cataclysm reduces your Destruction Mana costs while Aftermath causes your damaged targets to sometimes get dazed. Controlling the enemies that you are AoEing is one of the most important things in dungeons groups, which makes talents like Aftermath quite valuable in a group setting. Level 20 — 1 point in Shadowburn Levels 21 to 24 — 4 points in Devastation Levels 25 & 26 — 2 points in Intensity Level 27 — 1 point in Devastation Levels 28 & 29 — 2 points in Destructive Reach Shadowburn is a great spell for finishing off low enemies and is worth taking as soon as possible, but your Imp is limited by Mana, not by cast time, making this only a minor damage increase for your Imp, which will not help you much in dungeons. Level 30 — 1 point in Ruin Levels 31 & 32 — 2 points in Pyroclasm Levels 33 & 34 — 2 points in Improved Immolate Levels 35 to 39 — 5 points in Emberstorm Ruin is one of the best damage talents that you will get, especially for only a single point. Pyroclasm is an amazing control talent, and will end up stunning the majority of targets that you hit with your Hellfire, which will help your spell cleaves ability to control groups quite a bit. The next 2 points should go into Improved Immolate to work towards Conflagrate, and will help to unlock Emberstorm which is a straight damage increase. Levels 40 to 42 — 3 points in Improved Immolate Level 43 — 1 point in Conflagrate Levels 44 to 48 — 5 points in Improved Corruption Level 49 — 1 point in Improved Life Tap This is the point where the remainder of your talents can really go wherever you would like. Generally Conflagrate is worth taking for the burst and PvP potential, so finishing of the Destruction tree is recommended. After that you should go to Affliction and start taking the standard talents here that are good for every spec, beginning with Improved Corruption and Improved Life Tap. Level 50 — 1 point in Improved Life Tap Levels 51 & 52 — 2 points in Improved Drain Soul Levels 53 & 54 — 2 points in Suppression Level 55 — 1 point in Amplify Curse Levels 56 to 58 — 3 points in Improved Curse of Agony Levels 59 & 60 — 2 points in Nightfall These remaining points can be used to fill out the generic setup that most builds will take using the beginning Affliction talents. Improved Life Tap and Improved Drain Soul offer excellent Mana regeneration, while Suppression, Amplify Curse, Improved Curse of Agony, and Nightfall offer excellent damage options. 4. Leveling Rotation Your goal should be to get your Imp and Immolate immediately, which will give you the highest damage output in the game prior to level 10. Eventually you will pick up your Succubus, but with both the Imp and Succubus you should continue with the basic practice of using your DoT's on the target then finishing them off with your wand. Use Life Tap as needed for Mana regeneration to try and limit downtime. You should immediately start using your wand as a filler in place of Shadow Bolt once you get one, which will most likely be anywhere from levels 5 to 14 depending on if you can invest in a Lesser Magic Wand from the Auction House. Command your pet to attack the target; Immolate; Curse of Agony; Corruption; Shadow Bolt until you get your wand. Shoot with your wand; Conflagrate at the end of your Immolate; Shadowburn when the enemy is going to die within a few seconds; Drain Soul to kill the enemy if you need the Mana from Improved Drain Soul (once you get the talent) or if you need the Soul Shard. Warlocks have one of the strongest starts in the game. Immolate is available for purchase for 10 copper from level 1, meaning you should sell your water and food to get it as soon as possible. From there you can do the Warlock quest from your trainer to get your Imp, which you can easily get by level 2 or 3. With your Imp and Immolate, you should have no trouble wreaking havoc on anything in your path for a few levels. Do your class quest to get your Voidwalker. You will not be using your Voidwalker for normal leveling in this build, but it is a relatively easy quest and you might as well get it for later. Voidwalkers are also great in PvP due to Sacrifice, which makes it worth having just in case. 4.1. Dungeon Rotation As stated above, this build is primarily for dungeon leveling. You should focus on putting up Immolate, Corruption, and Curse of Agony on multiple targets, but your main damage is going to come once you get Rain of Fire and Hellfire. Hellfire does more damage, but Rain of Fire is much safer to use. During heavy AoE pulls you will exclusively use these abilities for high damage output, preferably using Hellfire whenever possible. 5. List of Trainer Skills to Buy All Warlock specs benefit from upgrading the same skills, so our list of skills to buy from trainers is the same, regardless of the spec. For this reason, you will find that list in our general Warlock leveling page. 6. Weapons and Quests for Leveling Warlocks in WoW Classic To guide you in your weapon upgrades and the class-specific quests you can do while leveling up, we have two guides that you might find useful. Warlock Weapons guide Warlock Quests guide 7. How to advance as a Warlock at Level 60 Well done on hitting maximum level in WoW Classic! Now that leveling is over, you can learn more about level 60 gameplay by reading our DPS Warlock Guide, which covers every facet of gameplay at 60 in detail. The best individual pages to read through are as follows. The DPS Warlock Talent builds guide has the best builds for Level 60 covered. We propose builds for all specializations, with a focus on hybrid Destruction/Demo and Destruction/Destruction builds for PvE. Our PvP Warlock guide is where you can find PvP builds for all 3 specializations, as well as various tricks and tips for PvP combat. Goldmaking Guide for warlocks is a page with details on where / how to farm gold quickly as a Warlock when you are Level 60. The DPS Warlock Rotation guide is where you can read on how to optimize your PvE damage and how to prioritize your abilities. DPS Warlock Stats guide contains detailed information on all Warlock stats, including a list of their priority for damage dealing. Our Gear guide for DPS Warlocks lists all the optimal pieces of gear that you will want to farm at Level 60, in order to optimize your damage. 8. Changelog 29 Sep. 2019: Guide added. For those of you that wish to level with another specialisation, you can always check out our Demonology Leveling guide instead. Make sure to use the slider to adapt the guide to your current level. 1. Level-by-Level Rotation Talents for Warlocks in TBC Classic Move the slider below to make the guide update to your level! Level: 70 2. Leveling Talent Tree & Build Your first talent unlocks at Level 10. input: data-talentcalculator-levelupdatort=Affliction process: levels: data-talentcalculator-configurableanchor-url= data-talentcalculator-configurableanchor-text=Open in Calculator> 2.1. Affliction Talents from 10-19 Improved Corruption makes your Corruption have no cast time, providing great value. Suppression will help you gain the most important stat, Spell Hit, for a modest talent point investment. It is suggested to put at least 2-3 points into Suppression and no more, as fighting enemies at your level or lower requires very little Spell Hit. Improved Life Tap is very helpful while leveling, as it provides you with more Mana return from your Life Tap, resulting in less downtime sitting and drinking to regen your health and Mana. 2.2. Affliction Talents from 20-29 With the changes to Improved Drain Soul, this talent is actually really good for leveling and we dare say it is a must have. It provides you with some much needed Mana return, while at the same time Soul Siphon is bringing you really good Health returns on your Drain Life. Amplify Curse is a strong spell that you should use on cooldown partnered with Curse of Agony, making your next Curse of Agony extremely strong. Lastly, putting five points into Fel Concentration gives you a 70% chance to avoid any pushback on your Drain Life, allowing you to drain tank successfully. 2.3. Affliction Talents from 30-39 Putting two points into Improved Curse of Agony increases your Curse of Agony damage by 10%. Mix that with Empowered Corruption and your DoT's will be hitting very hard. Nightfall is important as it will give you many chances at free Shadow Bolts since it procs off of Corruption and Drain Life, which are constantly on the target. At Level 39, Siphon Life becomes available and with it comes even more damage and decent health return, leading to your targets dying faster and you needing to sit less and less. Destructive Reach extends the range of your Affliction spells by 6 yards. This gives your enemies 6 more yards to reach you. 2.4. Affliction Talents from 40-49 This is where Affliction starts to really take off. Shadow Mastery and Contagion both provide you with a massive damage boost to your most important DoT's, meanwhile Dark Pact gives you an insane boost to your Mana regen, allowing you to take your pets Mana. 2.5. Affliction Talents from 50-59 The new Warlock spell Unstable Affliction will provide you with a massive power boost, giving you a new and quite powerful DoT to keep up on your target. Next, we suggest that you put one point into Shadow Embrace. While at first glance this looks like it would not help much, and you are right, the bonus from the talent does not help you much, however it counts as an Affliction effect, meaning you get 4% more healing from your Soul Siphon talent. If you are playing on a PvP Server and expect to see some PvP action, then it is also suggested that you put a point into Curse of Exorcism, as it can really help with slowing enemies down. After that, put both points into Improved Howl of Terror, which will make your Howl of Terror instant cast, making you much harder to kill. Lastly, it is time to put the rest of your points into Demonology, picking up Demonic Embrace, which will provide you with a huge boost to your Stamina. As you imagined, it is suggested to put the remainder of your points into Demonology for the utility. Improved Healthstone helps when you need that instant health return from your Create Healthstone. Both Fel Stamina and Fel Intellect will provide you with 3% more maximum Mana and health, leading to even less downtime to recover both resources. Demonic Aegis is a very powerful talent that is a must with pretty much any build. This greatly buffs your Fel Armor, resulting in 26% increased healing (rather than 20%) and 130 Spell Power (rather than 100). Lastly, to round it all up, Fel Domination allows to summon a new demon in pretty much half the time and it costs half the Mana. This is very good if you ever need to quickly get another pet out. 3. Leveling Rotation There are two suggested builds for Affliction Warlocks to choose from. Which you choose will depend largely on your playstyle, as well as your current Gear. The first build is the Unstable Affliction build. The second build is the SM/DS build, which utilizes Demonic Sacrifice to sacrifice your demon for Health regen or more damage. It is widely suggested for those with weaker gear to go with the Unstable Affliction build to help carry your damage and other talents like Contagion to boost your Corruption and Curse of Agony, while your demon feeds you Mana with Dark Pact. 3.1. Unstable Affliction Build 3.1.1. Unstable Affliction Leveling Rotation 10-49 Send your demon to attack your target. Immolate is only used if you can afford the Mana and also only until you get Unstable Affliction at level 50. Corruption Curse of Agony Siphon Life Howl of Terror and Fear if you are in danger. It is easy for these fears to get out of hand and they can pull many more mobs. Be careful and be ready to use Curse of Recklessness on any enemies that look like they are going to pull more. Drain Life if you need any Health and, if you are running this build, it generally means that you have some gear and if there is hit on that gear, do not worry about Suppression. This build is less focused on drain tanking, and more on sustainability, with the goal to go as long as you can without stopping to regen. This build is also less focused on single-targetting enemies down and more about mass pulling as many as you feel comfortable, while easily surviving due to the massive health regen from Demonic Sacrificing your Summon Voidwalker, the tankiness you get from Demonic Embrace, and of course all the incoming healing from talents like Soul Siphon, Siphon Life, and Demonic Aegis. 4.1. SM/DS Leveling Rotation 1-60 Send your demon to attack your target. Immolate is only used if you can afford the Mana. Siphon Life Corruption Curse of Agony to keep Amplify Curse on cooldown. Howl of Terror and Fear if you are in danger. It is easy for these fears to get out of hand and they can pull many more mobs. Be careful and be ready to use Curse of Recklessness on any enemies that look like they are going to pull more. Drain Life if you need any Health and, if you do not need health, then Shoot your wand. Drain Soul for the killing blow ONLY if you need a Soul Shard or if you need the Mana back from Improved Drain Soul. 4.2. SM/DS Leveling 60-70 Nothing really at all changes with your rotation, besides the fact that you get to finally Demonic Sacrifice one of your demons. As said above, which you choose will depend largely on your playstyle. You can sacrifice either your Summon Voidwalker for some insane health regen or Summon Succubus for the massive increase to your overall damage. Once you get to Level 64, it is suggested that you use Incinerate instead of Shadow Bolt if you are looking to burst an enemy down. Incinerate has a shorter cast time, consumes less Mana and goes well with Immolate. 4.3. SM/DS Leveling Rotation 60-70 Demonic Sacrifice either your Summon Voidwalker or your Summon Succubus. Make surr one is always sacrificed. Immolate is only used if you can afford the Mana. Siphon Life Corruption Curse of Agony to keep Amplify Curse on cooldown. Howl of Terror and Fear if you are in danger. It is easy for these fears to get out of hand and they can pull many more mobs. Be careful and be ready to use Curse of Recklessness on any enemies that look like they are going to pull more. Drain Life if you need any Health and, if you do not need health, then Shoot your wand. Drain Soul for the killing blow ONLY if you need a Soul Shard or if you need the Mana from Improved Drain Soul. 5. List of Trainer Skills to Buy Warlocks do not just have spells to buy, but we also have grimoires. Grimoires are special books that contain certain spell ranks for your demon. For example, to teach your Summon Voidwalker to Taunt, you must buy the Taunt grimoire that will then teach your Summon Voidwalker how to do it. At first glance, it might seem like there is an endless amount of skills and grimoires to buy. It is only important that you keep the spells and abilities that you use in your rotation at max rank, as well as any utility abilities that you find yourself using. As for the demon grimoires, you do not have to buy them all. Instead, if you are short on Gold, just only keep your leveling demon fully ranked and do not worry about the other demons until your leveling journey is complete. For example, if you decide to go with your Summon Succubus, then only purchase her grimoires as you will not be using the other demons much while leveling. 6.
